Many of you will be aware through the media that the report into historic and current child sex abuse in the Church of England (IICSA) was published on 6th October. The report is based on public hearings held during July 2019, which examined the response of the Church of England and Church in Wales to allegations of child sexual abuse, as well as the adequacy, or otherwise, of current safeguarding policies and practices. It found systematic failings within the Church of England in how it deals with safeguarding issues along with its failure to support victims of abuse. IICSA has published the report in full on its website:

https://www.iicsa.org.uk/publications/investigation/anglican-church

It makes for difficult reading and I am sure many of you will be shocked by the stories and experiences it recounts. Prior to its publication the Archbishops of Canterbury and York published this open letter. On publication, the Church of England made this response and the Bishop of St Albans, Dr Alan Smith, said: "We will study the IICSA report carefully over the coming days".

Our parishes are in the Diocese of St Albans which undertook an independent safeguarding audit in 2018. The audit noted that the Diocese takes a firm line when difficult decisions are to be made, that there is a "positive culture around safeguarding," and that "the Diocese is not defensive about its practice."

This letter is to try to reassure you all that we continue to strive to improve our safeguarding practice. Heather Tisbury, one of our Lay Readers, is Safeguarding Officer for Great Gaddesden, Little Gaddesden and Nettleden and can be contacted if you have any concerns at any time, as may the Vicar or Anthony Archer – also a Reader.

We live in an imperfect and uncertain world compounded by the Covid-19 which leaves many already vulnerable people in an even worse situation and we must be continually vigilant. We will not get everything right all of the time, so there is always room for improvement. Offering a safe welcome to all and caring for survivors is, for us, indivisible from offering our message of Christian hope and love to those who come to church.

The Church of England is in a unique position of trust and has responsibility on a spiritual and pastoral level for all people in our parishes, irrespective of race, colour, gender flexibility, those of faith and of none.

As a church, we are committed to change and constantly review our practice. Our PCCs (Parochial Church Councils) and congregations will reflect upon what we can learn from the IICSA process and what victims and survivors have said and what it means for us as a church going forward.

We are deeply sorry and ashamed. If you have been affected by abuse within the church, whether as a survivor or through a person close to you and would like to talk to someone regarding a concern you have now, or in the past, there is support available:

'Safe Spaces' is an independent service supporting survivors of churchrelated abuse. This independent service is run by the charity Victim Support and is free to access via telephone: 0300 303 1056 (answerphone available outside of opening times), email: safespaces@victimsupport.org, or web-chat via:

www.safespacesenglandandwales.org.uk/.

The St Albans Diocesan Safeguarding Team may also be contacted through the website:

https://www.stalbans.anglican.org/diocese/safeguarding/

We want the church to be at the heart of our community and given the findings of this report, it is only through being completely honest that we can build and maintain integrity and trust.

We remain yours in Christ,

John Russell	Vicar	01442 214898

littlegaddesdenchurch.org.uk

Remembrance Day Sunday 8th November 2020

9.30am Said Holy Communion at Nettleden Church

On the Little Gaddesden website, there will also be a pre-recorded service from the Little Gaddesden Memorial from 10.45am.

Service of Remembrance including The Roll of Honour and placing of the wreaths.

littlegaddesdenchurch.org.uk

Please find on the following pages the names of those men mentioned on our village War Memorial which we recall every Remembrance Day. Jane Dickson has researched the details of these men and she has put together a short biography for each. Your Editors realise that this does take up quite a few pages, but given the 75th Anniversaries of VE and VJ Day this year, we felt that it was timely to give each person some promenance. There is much more detail on the website if you would like more information.

THE ROYAL BRITISH

WE WILL REMEMBER THEM

Let us remember before God, and commend to his sure keeping those who have died for their country in war;

Those whom we knew, and whose memory we treasure; and all who have lived and died in the service of mankind.

1914 - 1919

Private Charles Batchelor – Bedfordshire Regiment

Son of Charles and Elizabeth Batchelor of Gaddesden Row and brother of Sid Batchelor of Little Gaddesden, he enlisted at Hertford and served in France with the 6th Battalion from June 1915. He was killed in action at Bienvillers, aged 25, on 21st December 1915 and is buried in Bienvillers Military Cemetery, Pas de Calais, France.

Private Vernon Batchelor –Hertfordshire Regiment

Son of Alfred Mark and Jane Batchelor of Hudnall and a pre-War Territorial volunteer, he was called up on 4th August 1914 and served in France from 6th November 1914. On 25th July 1916 he died of wounds, aged 22, following involvement in the Battle of the Somme. He is buried in St Sever Cemetery, Rouen, Seine-Maritime, France.

Lance Corporal Albert Bierton –Middlesex Regiment

Son of Eli and Matilda Bierton of 34 Little Gaddesden, he attested for the Middlesex Regiment on 12th January 1916, was mobilised on 13th February 1916 and went to France on 2nd May that year. Seriously wounded in 1916 and 1918, he recovered and returned to front line duty each time. Appointed Lance Corporal (unpaid) on 16th October 1918, he was killed in action a week later, aged 26, during the Battle of the Selle. He is buried in Crossroads Cemetery, Fontaine-au-Bois, Nord, France.

Private William Cook – Bedfordshire Yeomanry and Bedfordshire Regiment

Son of the late William and Sarah Ann Cook of Berkhamsted, he enlisted at Bedford in March 1915, while resident in Little Gaddesden. He served in France from May 1916 and was wounded during the Battle of Morval, Somme, on 26th September 1916. #### 1939 – 1945

Lieutenant Henry Gordon – Gordon Highlanders

Son of Harry and Kathleen Gordon of Ashridge, where his father was the first College Secretary of the Bonar Law Memorial College, he joined the Gordon Highlanders in September 1940, aged nearly 19½. He was appointed 2nd Lieutenant on 31st May 1941 and, by June 1944, was attached to the 10th Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment in Burma (Myanmar). Aged 23, he was killed in action on 18th November 1944 during a patrol near Pinwe in Burma. He has no known grave and is commemorated on the Rangoon Memorial, Taukkyan War Cemetery, Myanmar.

Lieutenant Duncan Gray – Rifle Brigade

Son of James Neville and Hildegard Grey of the Red House, he joined the Army from Oxford University in 1942. He served in the  $10^{th}$  Battalion Rifle Brigade in Tunisia in 1943 and in the Italian Campaign from May 1944, when he was wounded in action. Recently returned to his battalion, he was killed in action, aged 21 while out on patrol on  $4^{th}$  September 1944. He is buried in Florence War Cemetery, Italy.

Lance Bombardier Leonard Hing – Royal Artillery

Son of Lewis and Annie Hing of 17 Little Gaddesden, he attested for the Royal Artillery in 1941 and was called up in 1942. He went to France two days after D Day, serving in Normandy in 59 (6th Battalion the Hampshire Regiment) Anti-Tank Regiment, Royal Artillery. On 1st August 1944 he was wounded in action at Caen. He was then evacuated to England and sent to the Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford. 24 year old Leonard died of his wounds in the Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford on 23rd September 1944; four days later, he was buried in Little Gaddesden churchyard.

Flight Sergeant William Newman – Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve

Son of William and Alice Newman of 61 Little Gaddesden, he volunteered for the R.A.F. aged 18 in 1941. He trained first at the Cadet University, Southampton and later in Canada, where he was promoted to Sergeant Bomb Aimer and later Flight Sergeant. He completed 32 sorties over enemy territory but, on 15th October 1944, aged 20, was killed in a flying accident over Oxfordshire. His funeral took place on Saturday 21st October at Hudnall Methodist Church, following which he was buried in Little Gaddesden churchyard.

Major Ian Patterson – Royal Artillery, Army Air Corps and Special Boat Service Son of Norman and Winifred Patterson of Nob's Crook, Golf Club Road, he was commissioned 2nd Lieutenant in the Royal Artillery Supplementary Reserve on 14th October 1936. Called up at the beginning of the War, he went to France; he was evacuated from Dunkirk in 1940. After transferring to the Parachute Regiment, Army Air Corps in early 1943, he transferred to the Special Boat Squadron that November, commanding L Detachment S.B.S in the Aegean from early 1944. In July 1944, he was awarded the Military Cross. In September 1944, L Detachment, led by Ian, turned their attention to the Peloponnese and on October 11th they entered Athens. On 21st December 1944 he was accidentally killed aged 30, when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed while flying into Bari, Italy. He is buried in Bari War Cemetery, Puglia, Italy.

Private Edward Rogers – Suffolk Regiment

Son of Frank and the late Lily Rogers, he and his father lived at 3 Little Gaddesden when he enlisted into the Suffolk Regiment in 1939; he served in the 5th Battalion, a Territorial unit. On 27th October 1941, the Battalion sailed for India for further training and, on 15th January 1942, they embarked for Singapore. Disembarking on 29th January 1942, they fought a rear-guard action until Singapore surrendered to the Japanese on 15th February 1942. He has no known grave and is commemorated on the Singapore Memorial.

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old: Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning, We will remember them.

British Humanitarian Aid – an update

Due to obvious reasons, we have not been in a position to provide regular reports of the activities of the BHA; COVID restrictions have prevented us from holding our monthly stall at the Community Markets and as you will appreciate, the transportation of goods to the Ukraine has been impossible.

Thanks to a few regular, loyal 'customers' we have been able to raise some money for the BHA but by no means as much as in previous years. We have also been unable to hold our annual fund-raising sale prior to Christmas but, having said that, we are keen to do as much as possible to continue helping BHA with their fantastic efforts.

As we approach Christmas, whether we are thinking about our outward giving or simply planning our Christmas meals, we are keen to make sure noone misses out on their traditional seasonal foodstuffs: jams, pickles and/or chutneys. So, we have a stock of preserves which we are happy to supply should anyone wish to place their order(s) in the coming weeks – either to collect or we are happy to deliver locally.

We have the following, on a 'first come first serve' basis:

Jams:

Apricot, Blackberry, Blackcurrant, Blueberry, Bramble jelly, Damson, Gooseberry, Thick or thin cut marmalade, Quince jelly, Plum, Raspberry, Strawberry, Summer Fruits.

Chutneys and pickles:

Pickled Onions, Pickled Beetroot, Beetroot chutney, Tomato chutney

Please just call or send a message if you wish to take up the offer, all jams and chutneys are £2.00 per jar or three jars for £5.50 (mix and match!) If you are leaving a message please make it clear how we can reply by leaving your name and a contact number.

AUTUMN DRAWS ON

I noticed that the leaves started to turn, imperceptibly (N.B. I was going to write 'gradually' as I didn't think I could spell, 'imperceptibly', aktshelly,) during October, heading towards the kaleidoscope of last ditch colour which lights up November. And the acorns! Have you seen them, absolutely whopping; the jays and grey squirrels are having their work cut out trying to hide them (Jays plant the most oak trees). I have collected loads of conkers, to stab and throw in corners and dark places as apparently, spiders dislike them. Just don't let them get swallowed by your Henry vac. as they quite comprehensively block the pipes (known from bitter experience). I heard somewhere that oaks produce a good acorn crop on alternate years in order to starve out the mice and voles who scoff them, get too matey, over-breed and eat up each year's crop, thus not leaving sufficient to keep up oak tree production. Or could it be that the earlier rain made the difference? N.B. I have just been out to collect sloes and wow! Absolutely masses of big fat purple berries, the branches are hanging heavy, laden with whoppers. So, no sloe gin shortage this winter.... It also looks to be a good holly year, if only the wood pigeons could be diverted by all the juicy sloes and other abundant fruit on offer.

Most gardens seem to have a resident robin, reserving their winter territory with their sweet-sounding song (which, if translatable, is more likely saying, "Get outta my aspace, or I maka you an offer youa cannot refuse") - something like that. I haven't seen many blackbirds since they lit up the spring and summer with their lovely song. Probably also aggressive male boasting. Now I've just ruined the morning chorus for myself. The wren (most populous bird apparently) sings some winter days, and, usually during November/December a lonely songthrush will start practising his repertoire, lighting up dark winter days. Goldfinches did well again; we do spoil them with the sunflower hearts, if only the chaffinches and greenfinches could catch up again. I did hear a chiffchaff the other day; some do stay over winter along with some blackcaps. I would like to think that it is part of a learned survival strategy as they are most prized as an amuse-bouche in places such as Cyprus where so many migrant species are wantonly slaughtered to satisfy Russian and local Mafias greed and vanity.

There are far fewer deer rushing about due to effective culling as the over populous herds were getting crowded out and unhealthy not to mention dead under vehicles wheels. (Road kill index: squirrels and badgers plus some game birds including a snipe, sadly.) I feel nervous saying this, but a deer's body is happily more rare now and hopefully, now the rut has started, none will meet a messy end on the local roads.

As the woods and footpaths have been heaving with new walkers this year due to lockdown and working from home, it won't be as much fun heading out to spot all the rut photographers, bobble hats a quiver and telescopic lens peeking out of each and every shrub around the prime gathering areas. I know I say this every year, but do try to remember to have a pee before leaving home as all bushes will likely be occupied.

Josie Jeffrey P.S. Searching for something to cheer us up in these strange times, I noticed that Swampy is back in the news. Yea! Swampy of 'tunnelling under the A30 in Devon' fame back in the nineties, and noted for also occupying trees in locations as far apart as Heathrow and Faslane. Swampy, now a middle aged respectably employed (Forestry Commission, natch) father of three has still got it and I am comforted to know that he is up a tree in the way of the HS2 line. Way to go, Swamp, you've still got It kid!

Note from Julie

Dear John, Michael, Barbara and friends,

Thank you for the lovely little red cyclamen which was a gift from the Harvest Festival and is giving much pleasure. Thank you also for the message of love and good wishes from many friends during my illness. I am so sorry not to be able to come to Sunday services now except occasionally. Thanks to my John, Peter and Jane Dickson I am beginning to use an i-Pad so it is good to be able to watch the service and talks on line. Do telephone 843550 for a chat. (I haven't mastered e-mail yet) or call at the garden door if you are passing by.

Julie Leonhardt

NOVEMORIES

They say that if you catch ten falling autumn leaves, good luck will come your way, With their woodland home emblazened, their fireworks on display, they flutter down, light as air and twirl a capricious dance, Imagine that they are memories, that you may catch by chance.

Or that they represent those scarlet poppies as they tumble down, Remembered each November in every city, village, town. But to catch the lucky ten is not as simple as it seems, And the leaves will nestle in the wood and dream their winter dreams.

The Thomas Field Hall

The work is progressing very well. The main roof to the Hall has been finished to the point where it is ready for the slates to be fixed to it. It has been impossible to obtain the large sized extra Delabole slates for the extended roof as the quarry won't start making them available until well into next year. Also, the sample of the new slate is a very different colour to the existing slate. This, of course, has been weathered for 50 years and the contrast is very marked. So, with those two problems we decided to select a new slate for the entire roof and have chosen Spanish slate which is the closest colour to the Delabole. The slating is programmed to be finished by the end of October.

The glazing of the Ambulatory roof has been successfully completed and it is looking very good, even though the steelwork is not yet painted. Installing the glass was a delicate job and the crane driver was very skilled, lifting the glass panels held on suction pads into place, to be bolted down, with very little room for accommodating mistakes. The next stage is for the joints to be sealed up.

The walls are now lined out with insulation and the floor insulation has been laid. The panels holding the underfloor heating pipework are on site ready to be laid by the plumber. All the first fixing of the electric cables has been done - there seems to be miles of it!

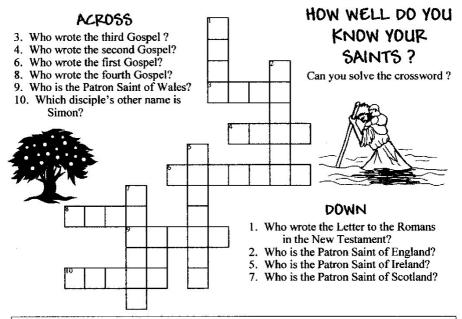

The builders have done very well in getting supplies on time despite possible delays due to the Covid-19 restrictions, although there is a bit of a hold up with the windows which they are trying to resolve so that the building can be made weathertight and allow for the plasterboard to be installed. We are just evaluating and selecting flooring materials, then we will be on the home straight!

HALLOW is an old word meaning 'Holy'. Hallowe-en is the evening before the day when we remember all holy people, or Saints, on ALL SAINTS DAY

The Lord's Prayer starts: Our Father in heaven, Hallowed be your name,

The Story of SAINT CHRISTOPHER

Christopher was a very big, strong man. He wanted to work for the most powerful person in the world. He thought it would be a king, but he discovered the king was frightened of the devil, who had power over him, so he went to the devil, but he discovered that the devil was frightened of God. God was more powerful than anyone. So Christopher wanted to serve God but didn't know how. A holy man told him to help others, and said he should live by a ford on a fast flowing river and carry people safely across to the other side. One dark night he heard a child calling to him. Taking his staff, he started to carry him across the river. Halfway across, the child got heavier and heavier and the water got deeper and deeper. Christopher struggled on until he finally reached the bank, where he put the child down. Then he heard a voice saying, "Christopher, you have carried God tonight. Put your staff into the ground." He did as he was told, and in the morning his staff had turned into a tree, covered in flowers and fruit. Then he knew he had been with God.

Commemoration of the Faithful Departed (All Souls' Day)

Eternal God, our maker and redeemer, grant us, with all the faithful departed, the sure benefits of your Son's saving passion and glorious resurrection that, in the last day, when you gather up all things in Christ, we may with them enjoy the fullness of your promises; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Amen

The Peace of the World

Almighty God,

from whom all thoughts of truth and peace proceed: kindle, we pray, in the hearts of all, the true love of peace and guide with your pure and peaceable wisdom those who take counsel for the nations of the earth that in tranquillity your kingdom may go forward, till the earth is filled with the knowledge of your love; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Amen

Eternal Light, shine into our hearts, Eternal Goodness, deliver us from evil, Eternal Power, be our support, Eternal Wisdom, scatter the darkness of our ignorance. Eternal Pity, have mercy on us; that with all our heart and mind and soul and strength we may seek thy face and be brought by thine infinite mercy to thy holy presence; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen
